Curvy Girl Romance Series - USA Today Bestselling contemporary romance author I had no intention of staying, but she was impossible to leave. Rowan Hiding in plain sight was never easy. Sure, no one in town knew my history, but I still didn't like feeling so exposed. Knowing that it wouldn't take much for them to figure out that I was there for a reason, and not staying forever. But after a few months, the small town was winning me over. The night life could use a little more excitement, and the dating options were minimal at best, but she caught my eye the first time I saw her. The angry look on her face hid the pain in her eyes. Maybe I was crazy for wanting to know why she was hurt, or maybe I just recognized someone I could relate to. Someone who might not judge me the way I'd been judging myself. I just needed a way to get her to talk to me. Willow The last thing I needed was a cop on a power trip trying to make a name for himself. I knew I was an easy target. No one in town liked me. But did he have to give me a ticket? And worse, did he have to buy me a drink? Yeah, because that was going to make it all better. I shouldn't have had the drink. I shouldn't have talked to him. Or let him kiss me. Or let him walk me home. I knew I was playing with fire because he was gorgeous and snarky and the first person in far too long who acted like I mattered. It was a mistake to let him in, to open myself up to him. But by the time I learned just how big of a mistake, it was far too late to keep myself from wanting something I'd never get from him. From wanting more. Grab some hot cocoa (and a glass of ice water) and celebrate Christmas with two curvy girl romances! Ample & Alluring I hate Christmas. I know that's harsh, but all the fake, happy families and people letting the pressure of a perfect holiday get to them really got to me. The one thing making it easier is Mayor Wyatt Ramsey. We're friends, and he decided to make it his mission to change my mind about his favorite holiday. I am less than confident in his skills, but his excitement is more than a little contagious. Just like his kisses. And his touches. And the sexy looks that make me hot. Falling for Christmas is easy. Falling for Wyatt is, too. But not everything is so easy. Like finding out I'm pregnant... His Curvy Gift Gavin Spending the holidays with my aunt in her small town would have made me insanely happy as a kid. As an adult, I'd outgrown the idea of settling down in a small town and enjoyed my city life. The month I was staying would go fast and I'd be back to normal before I knew it. I hoped. Then I met the curvy server. The one who handled the overly friendly customers with ease and ignored me just as seamlessly. Walking her home at the end of the night felt normal, almost like I could belong there. First, I had to get over everyone knowing everything. But there were perks. Like running in to Piper again. And getting matched with her on an online dating app. Piper Online dating worked for me. I was not looking for more than one night. Relationships and me didn't mix. I was good with that. But there were always times when I didn't want to be quite so alone. Like during the holidays. Gavin was different than most of the men I knew. He said we could be friends. He didn't try for anything more. He said he's leaving after the holidays and not looking to get involved. He has a life, and it's not in my small town. So when he asks me to spend the holidays pretending to be dating him, I go along with it. But every fake relationship has to include kisses, and gentle touches, and nights spent between the sheets. I let myself trust him. I let myself believe he was different. I almost let myself fall for him. Never mind. I fell. I just hope he can catch me. She's never been out of Texas, and she's itching for adventure. Grady McKenna couldn't get away from his family's ranch fast enough when he was a teenager, but a tour in the Air Force in the Middle East is enough to convince him there's no place like home. Naturally, the woman who draws his attention is the one intent on slipping through his fingers. How can he convince her life with him will be all the adventure she needs? Curvy Girl Romance Series - USA Today Bestselling contemporary romance author Who falls in love with their little sister's best friend? Ian Being stuck in the friend-zone sucked. I was done. Blake had been single long enough, and if I didn't make a move, she'd get together with the wrong man again. Because the right one was me. Luck was definitely on my side. An online dating site paired us up. It was an opportunity to show her the side of me she didn't know. The side who wasn't interested in a fling with half the women in town. The side who wanted something serious and lasting. With her. I thought about confessing. Telling her that I was the guy she was sharing her secrets with. But keeping my online identity a secret meant she talked to me. Really talked to me. It was worth the risk. Blake was worth any risk. Blake Getting dumped sucked. Getting dumped because he thought I was in love with my best friend's older brother was ludicrous. I did not have a thing for Ian. Yeah, we shared a hotel room when we went to Hawaii, but nothing happened. I mean, I walked in on him right after he got out of the shower. Water running down his chest. Hair slicked back from his face. That stormy look in his eyes. And the rock, hard... Ahem, anyway. No, I did not have a thing for him. We were friends. That was it. Curvy Girl Romance Series - USA Today Bestselling contemporary romance author Nothing worth having ever came easily. Colin Small town living was not what I was used to. I liked my quiet and solitude, but there didn't seem to be much of that in a town so small everyone knew I was a newcomer. They knew more about my family history than I did. They were all nice, and friendly, and wanted to know me, but it all just made me want to hide from them. Except for Elise. She was the one woman I wanted to get to know. She was a mystery, a mystery that intrigued me. She talked and laughed and enjoyed life, but when I was around she closed up. And when we our dating profiles were matched and we met out for a drink, she bolted. Flat out refused to stick around. And refused to give me another chance. She didn't know I wouldn't give up that easily. Elise I knew online dating was a risk. Sometimes he was a freak. Sometimes he was just wrong. And sometimes he was the guy I was trying to convince myself I wasn't interested in. Getting involved with a man wasn't an option for me. Curvy Girl Romance Series - USA Today Bestselling contemporary romance author The best relationships are the ones that end quickly. Gavin Spending the holidays with my aunt in her small town would have made me insanely happy as a kid. As an adult, I'd outgrown the idea of settling down in a small town and enjoyed my city life. The month I was staying would go fast and I'd be back to normal before I knew it. I hoped. Then I met the curvy server. The one who handled the overly friendly customers with ease and ignored me just as seamlessly. Walking her home at the end of the night felt normal, almost like I could belong there. First, I had to get over everyone knowing everything. But there were perks. Like running in to Piper again. And getting matched with her on an online dating app. Piper Online dating worked for me. I was not looking for more than one night. Relationships and me didn't mix. I was good with that. But there were always times when I didn't want to be quite so alone. Like during the holidays. Gavin was different than most of the men I knew. He said we could be friends. He didn't try for anything more. He said he's leaving after the holidays and not looking to get involved. He has a life, and it's not in my small town. So when he asks me to spend the holidays pretending to be dating him, I go along with it. But every fake relationship has to include kisses, and gentle touches, and nights spent between the sheets. I let myself trust him. I let myself believe he was different. I almost let myself fall for him. Never mind. I fell. I just hope he can catch me. Curvy Girl Romance Series - USA Today Bestselling contemporary romance author Repeat after me: Do NOT fall for your employee. Nico Resisting Laura was getting harder and harder every day. Seeing her talking and laughing with patients and watching the shutters close when she looked at me was painful. I deserved it, but it was not easy. Not when I wanted to know everything there was to know about her. If only I wasn't her boss. Crossing that line wasn't a good idea. We had important work to do. Work that saved lives and helped people. I couldn't risk it. I wouldn't. But hearing about her dates was driving me crazy. If I could meet someone, maybe I could forget about her. There had to be someone on the online dating app who would take my mind off of her. Laura Life's too short for regrets. I learned that day after day working with patients living and dying with cancer. They all told me the same thing. Stop being afraid of living my life and grab it by the balls. So, I listened. I stopped wondering when my boss was going to notice me. I stopped wishing he would see me as more than just his nurse. I stopped declining dates with other men in hopes Nico would one day ask me out. I am not so evolved that I actually stopped hoping something would happen, but I had to move on. People were dying with regrets, and I couldn't live with mine. I never thought dating other men would make Nico notice me. I never expected him to be pissed off. And I sure as hell never thought he'd be jealous. But I definitely liked that side of him. The side that said he wanted me. It wasn't going to be that easy, though. He needed to work for it. Author Interview with Aidy Award: Q - So, what makes the Curvy Love Series special? When I set out to write the Curvy Love Series I wanted to write about a BBW (Big, Beautiful Woman) who was someone I would want to read about. My top picks are usually Romance series with kickin' curvy women who fall in love with some hot alpha males. I like any of the thousands of spicy, contemporary romance novels featuring women like me, women I can relate to. The Curvy Love books are a great way for me to show that plus-size, rubenseneque, titian, BBW, whatever you call yourself, can have an erotic romance, real love, and lots of dirty fun. We need more diversity in books and especially body positivity. My curvy heroines don't always have it all together at the beginning of the story, but you can bet on some great growth, learning to accept themselves as amazing, and fall in love with a sexy hero along the way. Q - What order should I read the books in? A - I've written the series so you can read the books in any order, and all the story threads will tie up nicely by the time you're finished. There are lots of cross-overs in the timelines, so it's fun to find re-visit your favorite characters from another heroine's point of view. If you do want to read them in order, I'd suggest the following sequence: - Curvy Diversion - Curvy Temptation - Curvy Persuasion - The Curvy Seduction Serial - Curvy Domination (coming soon) Q - Why should readers give these books a try? A - Because the Curvy Love series is fun romantic comedy (I love to write so my readers get to laugh out loud!), but it also has lots of sexy times set in a BDSM club, so it's also really hot. Ultimately, readers who enjoy panty-melting heroes, heroines who are real women, with a romance that keeps you reading will get a kick out of this series. Q - Can readers get the whole series in one go? A - I'll be releasing a few bundles soon if people want to save a little moolah and grab all the books in one swoop. Check out my author page here at Amazon for more details, and a full list of my available titles. Many hugs and thanks for reading!
