"Sensitive phrases" is a collection of essays by Han Han, a phenomenal blogger, writer, magazine editor, rally driver, and one of Time Magazine's 2010 top 100 "most influential people in the world." In China, publications are under the subjective scrutiny of the government. Many subjects are "sensitive" and easily face the chopping block. With over half a billion followers on his blog, Han Han does a dare in this book writing about these "sensitive phrases." None of the articles have been censored or edited in the Taiwan edition. Also included in the book is his debut novel San Chong Men (Triple gates). In Traditional Chinese. Annotation copyright Tsai Fong Books, Inc. Distributed by Tsai Fong Books, Inc.

Consumers today are increasingly more likely to treat their illnesses with OTC drug products without seeking advice from a physician. And advice about OTC medication is frequently sought from a pharmacist prior to a doctor's visit. APhA's Handbook of Nonprescription Drugs, 12th Edition, is the essential resource to enhance your ability to provide consumers with OTC product and related information. Now in one easy-to-use volume, pharmacy students, practitioners, and other health professionals will find the most comprehensive discussion of nonprescription treatment ever presented. Completely updated, the Handbook of Nonprescription Drugs, 12th Edition, focuses on an integrated therapeutic approach to providing pharmaceutical care to self-treating patients by emphasizing the following processes: Patient Assessment - discusses customized patient interview questions and physical assessment techniques. Patient interview is presented in a question-and-answer format to provide a more effective approach to patient triage; Triage - focuses on the decision-making process that indicates either medical referral or self-treatment; Self-Care Options - includes OTC products, preventive and nondrug measures, and alternative remedies such as herbal products and other dietary supplements, as well as homeopathic products; Product Evaluation and Comparison - compares the safety and efficacy of products and uses patient factors and preferences in selecting the appropriate product; Patient Counseling - emphasizes the objectives of the treatment, the information patients should know about their disorder, and the appropriate use of OTC medications or other remedies; and Evaluation of Patient Outcomes - includes information on assessing the patient's progress in meeting therapeutic goals, as well as the monitoring parameters used to measure the progress.

At readers' fingertips is everything they need to know about their medications, including usage, side effects, and precautions. Written and updated by clinical pharmacists in a Q&A format, this book contains more than 700 drug overviews, including key facts and advice for the 200 most prescribed medications. Line drawings.

Five years after the first stirrings of the crisis, some countries have recovered, but others are still struggling. F&D looks at the world today and sees a complex and mixed picture for the future of the world economy. In "Tracking the Global Recovery" we learn that most emerging markets seem to have moved on from the effects of the crisis, but most advanced economies have not. "Fixing the System" looks at how the pace of reforms to strengthen financial regulation has now slowed. World Bank trade economist Bernard Hoekman takes stock of incipient moves toward protectionism in "Trade Policy: So Far So Good?". "Bystanders at the Collapse" looks at how emerging markets and low-income countries weathered the global recession. Financier Mohamed El-Erian weighs in on the potential threat posed by large payment surpluses and deficits in "Stable Disequilibrium." Also in the magazine, we explore what's happening in commodities markets, assess the rise of green technologies, take a look at the shifts in South Asia's labor force, and uncover the harm money laundering can inflict on national economies. F&D's People in Economics series profiles Laura Tyson, Minder of the Gaps, and the Back to Basics series explains how money markets provide a way for borrowers to meet short-term financial needs.

This year, we mark the 70th anniversary of the IMF and World Bank and the 50th anniversary of F&D. The world has seen a staggering amount of change in the past seven decades. So, with these two anniversaries in mind we focused our attention on the transformation of the global economy—looking back and looking ahead. What will the global economy look like in another 70 years? Five Nobel laureates—George Akerlof, Paul Krugman, Robert Solow, Michael Spence, and Joseph Stiglitz—share their thoughts on which single “frontier” issue promises to shape the economic landscape in the years ahead. In “A World of Change,” Ayhan Kose and Ezgi Ozturk chart the economic transformations of the past 70 years. Martin Wolf looks at the perils and promise of globalization in “Shaping Globalization.” IMF Chief Christine Lagarde charts a course for the IMF in the next decade in Straight Talk IMF Chief Economist Olivier Blanchard distills the lessons of the 2008 global financial crisis in “Where Danger Lurks.” This issue also features cartoonist Nick Galifianakis and Joe Procopio telling the story of the IMF’s origins in a seven-page comic. The People in Economics series profiles a giant in economics—Nobel winner and Stanford professor Ken Arrow, who built on an early passion for math and work in meteorology during World War II to launch a storied career in economics. Articles on the future of energy in the global economy by Jeffrey Ball and on measuring inequality—the most hotly debated economic issue of recent days—by Jonathan Ostry and Andrew Berg round out the package.
